❖ Brief outline addressed in the event:

Travelling is a good way to learn the new things. People learn more efficiently by seeing rather than reading. We in our college focus more on visual based learning rather than just focusing on books. Keeping that in mind Venus Institute of Physiotherapy has organised a 1 day educational visit to Jeewan Sandhya Old Age Home, NaranPura and Blind People Association, Vastrapur. All students gathered in the campus sharp at 9 and bus left for the visit at 9:15 AM. First of all, students went to the former place where they guide of the organisation have taken everyone on short tour of the place. Later on, they asked the students to interact with the elderly, where they all got emotionally involved with them and at the end the guide Mrs. Geetaben Patel asked all students and the faculty member to take oath for not leaving their respective parents when they get old.

Secondly, they went to Blind People Association, Vastrapur. There they got chance to mingle with the children who are especially able, who had lost their vision in various case. They have children from many places. They all get schooling, training and vocational training and all at no cost. They also visited the physiotherapy clinic present over there and got chance to learn more from the therapist for the therapy side. Few students also made some donation at the organisation as well.

Students were very happy with the trip and they all responded very well and also gave positive feedback and also looking forward to the similar activities like this in near future.
